

C uple light from a light source or optical data source through an optical fiber to a large, low index contrast waveguide ,302

Couple light from the large, low index contrast waveguide to a set of small high index contrast waveguides

304

Combine light in the set of small high index contrast waveguides into a single, small high index contrast waveguide.

304

300

Figure 3

